Laura is widely recognised in the leading legal directories for her expertise in these fields. She has been recognised in the Legal 500 UK Solicitors for PIL annually since 2022 (most recently, in the 2025 Guide, as a "Next Generation Partner"). She has been ranked in Chambers UK since 2023, most recently (2025) as an "up and coming" lawyer in PIL. She has been included in the (biennial) Lawdragon 500 Leading Global Litigators guide since 2021 for her expertise in PIL. She is also recommended by Legal 500 UK Solicitors 2024 for international arbitration. She was included in Who's Who Legal 2024 as a "Future Leader" in Arbitration (based on recommendations from peers and clients), and selected by peers for inclusion in the 2024 edition of The Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch in the United Kingdom™ in International Arbitration. Chambers reports that clients describe Laura as a "phenomenal lawyer", and an "astute strategist", who "has deep expertise in international arbitration and public international law" and provides "high-quality advice".

Laura advises on a wide range of PIL issues, including international investment law; international human rights law; the law of the sea; statehood and sovereignty issues; treaty interpretation; and UN procedure. She represents State clients in inter-State proceedings before the International Court of Justice (ICJ) and under the auspices of the Permanent Court of Arbitration (PCA). She has also advised clients in proceedings before the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR) and the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU). She acts for claimant investors and respondent States in complex and high-value international investment arbitrations across a range of industry sectors, and has experience of all the major arbitral rules (ICSID, SCC, UNCITRAL). Laura also regularly advises on PIL issues before domestic courts (including, in particular, State immunity issues, recognition and enforcement of arbitral awards, and set-aside proceedings). Laura has delivered numerous training courses to officials of State clients and lectures at academic and other institutions on topics of PIL and international arbitration.
